Time Periods Throughout History: " Human, Geologic & Cosmological " Edited by Paul F. Kisak

The categorization of the past into discrete, quantified named blocks of time is called periodization. This is a list of such named time periods as defined in various fields of study. Major categorization systems include cosmological (time periods in the origin and evolution of the universe), geological (time periods in the origin and evolution of earth), anthropological (time periods in the origin and evolution of humans) and historical (written history). These can be divided broadly into prehistorical (before history began to be recorded) and historical periods (when written records began to be kept). This book gives a comprehensive overview of the human, geological and cosmological time periods of the earth's history.
